

August 4, 2014

Smelly News: Hermès Launch Eau des Merveilles 10th Anniversary Edition

Eau des Merveilles – 10th Anniversary Edition

Luxury goods brand, Hermès have launched a special collector's edition of their popular Eau des Merveilles fragrance to celebrate the perfume's 10th anniversary. Created by perfumers, Nathalie Feisthauer and Ralf Schweiger in 2004, Eau des Merveilles is an unusual and beautiful woody-citrus perfume with a striking ambergris accord that speaks of deep ocean waves and bright stars in the night sky.

The 10th anniversary collector's edition of Eau des Merveilles, sees the perfume's flacon "adorned with radiant silver edging", creating a luxurious feel on the fragrance's topsy-turvy bottle. The perfume itself, remains unchanged and is the wonderfully offbeat marine-like fragrance that we all know and love. It's a fitting tribute to a modern classic – happy birthday, Eau des Merveilles, here's to many more!

The Notes

The Spirit of Wood: Benzoin, Peruvian Balsam, Vetiver, Cedar and Oak

The Memory of the Ocean: Ambergris Accord

The Sparkle of a Constellation: Pink Pepper, Cardamom, Indonesian Pepper, Elemi, Italian Lemon and Bitter Orange

Availability

The Eau des Merveilles 10th Anniversary Edition launches today in select department stores and is available in 100ml Eau de Toilette for £97.

Disclaimer

Sample, notes and quotes via Hermès. Image my own.